Action Items	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Patrick provided a quick overview of the Wildland Urban Interface Modelling and Relative Wildfire Risk Modelling. He also mentioned that he is working on setting up a meeting with the Planning Departments to work through how this material fits into land use planning. The maps are available interactively thanks to Gallatin County GIS at https://www.readygallatin.com/mitigation/.
Updates	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Patrick provided an update on the Violent Attack Committee. There hasn't been much work this fall, however he did meet with Sean Grabbe who will be leading a small work group to identify what Gallatin County's training requirements are, the entry protocols for rescue task forces and our ballistic PPE standard for medical personnel. • A couple changes to the Mass Casualty Incident Plan have been proposed out of and exercise that Fort Ellis held. It largely consists of clarifying language to ensure all ambulances get used to transport, that all ambulances are under the control of transportation officer and updating everyone's triage equipment so it matches. The wording changes to the plan have been provided to the Fire Council and the triage equipment is in the MCI grant budget. • The MCI Grant issue freezing the funding has been resolved, however we are still waiting to receive formal notification before incurring costs. We expect to start incurring costs this winter. • The cache trailer project is close to wrapping up. Most equipment is here and it is expected that the physical switch over will occur in the next few weeks. This will result in a trailer to support emerging incidents and long term incidents. • Patrick reported that the Emergency Management program will be moving completely under the County beginning January 1, 2019. • Patrick reminded everyone that Emergency Management is identified at the Local Emergency Response Authority for hazardous materials incidents in Gallatin County. In our Emergency Management Plan the operational responsibility for this is delegated to fire departments and the Sheriff's Office in unprotected areas. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The 2019 Homeland Security Grant Applications are expected to be posted on January 7th. It is expected that applications will need to be run through AHAD for endorsement and prioritization at the February 21st AHAD meeting.
