Emergency Management	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Patrick spoke about the revision of the county Pre Disaster Mitigation Plan that is starting up. This is a requirement to have a current plan in order to be eligible for federal assistance. We are going to try and tie this to the Community Rating System to try and get an insurance reduction on the National Flood Insurance Program. The is a community driven feedback program. It is important that participants attend the community meetings when they are set up. Patrick received notification that Montana State University had received a Pre Disaster Mitigation grant for earthquake retrofitting. Glenn Puffer is going to look into the details of this. Patrick reported that a meeting was held to discuss local Type 3 Incident Management Team activities. People are working on trying to firm up the local plans and lists supporting this.

Training & Exercise	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Patrick reminded everyone that the PPL Montana exercise is coming up May 3 & 4 in West Yellowstone. If anyone is interested in playing, let Patrick know. A very brief discussion was held about a continuation of the International Shakeup exercise. There is interest in participating in the exercise, but no one is stepping up to help plan it. Patrick advised that a series of position specific ICS classes are being held around the region. Typically people have found these to be very good classes. They are specific to an ICS Position and tell you how to do the job. A discussion was held on trying to do an Integrated Emergency Management Course for Gallatin County. There was good support for this activity and Patrick will keep his eyes open for the application period. If we do apply, we must be committed to filling all the slots for people to attend.
